I hope that in 3 years, I will be able to communicate in English more easily and I will have graduated at school that I choose. And I will be leaving in a largest place, with garden for my dog will have a tree. I will had visited my family in Brazil and I will have killed the longing I miss them today. I will have a car for my on, and I will do a travel to Bali with my husband. And I will be more close to have the permanent visa. And I hope I will be happier than I'm now, and less stressed.
