

LARA'S BIRTH

Created on February 20, 2024 by Jennifer ENDSFELDZ NAKASATO

One special day in my life was the birth of my niece. It was on December 06th, at 6pm o'clock. My all family was there.

When I first saw her, my heart seems like it was explode with so much love.

At that moment I realized that I had my heart outside my body, and I loved her so much that I ever though it was possible felt this way so fast with only a look.

And after that day I became a happy and proud aunt